IFATSEA Expands Global Network with New Affiliation of Egypt's PAS

[April 28, 2025] — The International Federation of Air Traffic Safety Electronics Associations (IFATSEA) is pleased to announce that the Professionals Association of Air Traffic Systems (PAS) from Egypt has officially joined as an affiliated member organization.

The PAS represents professionals dedicated to the advancement, safety, and reliability of air traffic systems in Egypt. Their affiliation strengthens IFATSEA's international network and supports the Federation's mission to enhance the professional standards, training, and global collaboration among Air Traffic Safety Electronics Personnel (ATSEPs).

With this new affiliation, IFATSEA continues to expand its presence worldwide, further promoting inclusive cooperation and the exchange of technical expertise across the global aviation sector. PAS and IFATSEA will collaborate on initiatives including the development of technical standards, training improvement, and advocacy for the recognition and professionalization of ATSEPs globally.

This development reflects IFATSEA's continuing efforts to unite ATSEP organizations from around the world in promoting the highest standards of air navigation system safety, technical excellence, and operational innovation.
